As one of the world's leading manufacturers of rolling bearings, linear technology components and steering systems, we can be found on almost every continent – with production facilities, sales offices and technology centres – because our customers appreciate short decision-making channels, prompt deliveries and local service.

The NSK company

NSK commenced operations as the first Japanese manufacturer of rolling bearings back in 1916. Ever since, we have been continuously expanding and improving not only our product portfolio but also our range of services for various industrial sectors. In this context, we develop technologies in the fields of rolling bearings, linear systems, components for the automotive industry and mechatronic systems. Our research and production facilities in Europe, Americas and Asia are linked together in a global technology network. Here we concentrate not only on the development of new technologies, but also on the continuous optimisation of quality – at every process stage.

Among other things, our research activities include product design, simulation applications using a variety of analytical systems and the development of different steels and lubricants for rolling bearings.

Partnership based on trust – and trust based on quality

Total Quality by NSK: The synergies of our global network of NSK Technology Centres. Just one example of how we meet our requirements for high quality.

NSK is one of the leading companies with a long tradition in patent applications for machine parts. In our worldwide research centres, we not only concentrate on the development of new technologies, but also on the continual improvement of quality based on the integrated technology platform of tribology, material technology, analysis and mechatronics.

Types of Hub Bearings

Hub unit bearings for automobile wheels are comprised of bearing rings, rolling elements and cages, similar to general-purpose rolling bearings. There are three main generations of bearings, normally referred to as Hub I, Hub II and Hub III.

NSK HUB Bearings

For HUB I, NSK uses proprietary bearing-type designations such as »BWD« for double-row angular contact ball bearings and »KWD« for double-row tapered roller bearings. No preload adjustments (including dimensional adjustments by shims) are required at assembly since the axial clearance or preload is set by NSK to fall within the specified range after mounting. In addition, many designs have integral seals (including encoder seals) and are pre-filled with modern high performance grease eliminating the need for externally applied seals or re-lubrication.

HUB I

NSK uses bearing reference for hub unit bearings clarifying boundary dimensions, types, and specification codes. Below are examples of bearing reference:

Example:

Hub I, type BWD

Hub Unit Bearings

HUB II

NSK uses bearing reference for hub unit bearings clarifying boundary dimensions, types and specification codes.

Below are examples of bearing reference:

Example:

Hub II, type BWK

HUB III

NSK uses bearing reference for hub unit bearings clarifying boundary dimensions, types and specification codes.

Below are examples of bearing reference:

Example:

Hub III, type BWKH
